

APRIL 29, 2020

COVID-19: TEMPERATURE SCREENING OF PERSONNEL

As organizations implement protocols for personnel to safely return to work, one of the protocols may be temperature screening. One of the symptoms of coronavirus (COVID-19) listed on the CDC website is fever. We have received many questions related to conducting symptom and body temperature checks on personnel in the past few weeks related to COVID-19. In order to address the questions we have received, we want to share our COVID-19 - Conducting Symptom and Temperature Screening on Personnel Handout developed by Graham Company Safety Services.

In addition, we have been asked by several clients for companies that can assist with body temperature screenings. A company that can conduct body temperature screenings at your location is WorkStrategies. Please feel free to contact WorkStrategies directly to discuss their availability if you have a need for this service.

If you have questions or need additional assistance, contact your Graham Company Safety Consultant.

For additional COVID-19 resources and risk management recommendations, please visit our COVID-19 Risk Management Center.

A PDF of the below information can be found here.