COVID-19: WIRE TRANSFER RISKS & CYBER SECURITY

During this pandemic, cybercriminals have become successful through business email compromise scams that result in wire transfers to unauthorized accounts. With more individuals working remotely and unable to utilize their standard payment procedures, cybercriminals are applying social engineering techniques to transfer large sums of money and cause financial harm. To help assist your organization in preventing cybercrime and avoid making fraudulent wire transfers, please click here for risk management tips that can be shared with your accounting staff.
